- Educate how to reduce & properly dispose of waste.
- Educational courses on organic farming.
- Project to prevent water crisis.

Youth from San Juan Apostol parish in El Remate, Petén, pick up litter, particularly plastic, from nearby Lake Macanche.

Organic farmers Bertha and Escolástico Pérez grow 27 different kinds of fruit on their six acres in the Petén region of Guatemala and host workshops sponsored by Father Custer.
Caminando Por La Paz is a social movement functioning under the norms of the Catholic Church. We strive to respond to the values inherent in the charisma of the Fathers and Brothers of Maryknoll. Our purpose is to include in our program those persons who are at risk of gang behavior, drug addiction or disintegration of conscience, thus losing their moral and social values.

Our philosophy is based upon the four pillars of Maryknoll Affiliates: Community, Spirituality, Global Vision, and Action. However, we focus on the four areas instilled in the program by its founder, Maryknoll Father Thomas Goekler. Thus, we emphasize education and community service as our action response. Our Global Vision manifests itself in our community efforts to improve our marginalized area. Our founder, Father Tom, taught us to be especially concerned and active in these four areas:

Community Service, Spirituality, Feeding the hungry, and especially, Providing Education.
